THE LATE SEATON MUNROE.

Reminiscences of Him as a Society Leader-His Lovable Qualities. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

It is doubtful if there was a spot on the entire globe where at least one person did not experience keen sorrow when learning of the sudden and untimely death of Mr. Seaton Munroe. To what eminence Mr. Munroe might have risen had he continued n the profession for whic. he was so well fitted at the Harvard Law School must remain in the fancy of his countless friends. But it seems safe to say that with his withdrawal the legal fraternity lost one of its most promising luminaries.

But his taste, his genius for social cereonies, augmented by a modest competence, prompted him at an early date to abandon the field which was his first choice, and for a quarter of a century he was the Ward McAllister of Washington, with none of the latter's vanity, and not one particle of the latter's love of publicity and notoriety. In social circles of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore he New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore he was as well known and liked as in his native city. There are few women of the smarfer set who during the past twenty-five years made their debut in Washington that cannot recall giving Mr. Munroe at least one dance on their first night. And no social event of prominence has occurred within this period with which he was not closely associated.

He was one of the earliest members of the Metropolitan Club when this coterie was domiciled in the old Morris house on H street. Later on, when the Graham residence on 15th and H streets was occupied by the club, Munroe was one of its most popular and prominent members; and with the completion of the club's present imposthe completion of the club's present impos-ing quarters, he was made one of the gov-ernors. He became an officer of the Bach-elors' Cotillion Club soon after its organi-zation by Robert Stockton, Hamilton Fish, jr., John Davis and Hamilton Perkins, and continued in this capacity until the belief that he was growing old prompted him to that he was growing old prompted him to give way to a later generation. And it is little wonder if, at times, Munroe was assalled with this feeling, for by far the larger number of his old associates have long since passed away. Ross Ray, Capt. Fillebrown, "Bob" Morrow, Capt. "Gasy" Brown, Gen. Crane, Twining, Lyford and Albert Ray, who for years met at the latter's charming home-lately occumied by Albert Ray, who for years met at the latter's charming home—lately occupied by the University Club—have long gone before, and the death of Munroe makes the breaking of this golden bowl complete. But in spite of his years and his experience, Munroe was not old. To the end he was the same boon companion, the same faithful friend.

faithful friend. In 1873, when he was secretary for Admiral Case in the Mediterranean, it was my fate to be a lieutenant of cavalry, stationed at Camp Apache, Ariz. His letters tioned at Camp Apache, Ariz. His letters to me from his pleasant environment made life in that barren wilderness almost enjoyable. If Munroe had an enemy, it was not my bad fortune to have net with such a one. In throwing this peor stone upon the cairn of one I loved, I take this sentiment from an old letter of Col. Sanford C. Kellogg's, now attache of the United States embassy at Paris: "I do not believe the man lives who has done more for the happiness and welfare of others than Seaton Munroe."

What nobler epitaph could be desired? E. L. K.

Commissioner Tucker in Philadelphia In the absence of Commissioner Eva Booth, Commander Booth-Tucker yesterday assumed command of the Philadelphia department of the Salvation Army.

The reception accorded him was an instantaneous and enthusiastic welcome in the afternoon at Music Hall, in West Philadelphia. That in Association Hall in the evening was less cordial at the outset, but evening was less cordial at the outset, but the new commander's adroit disclaimer of being actuated by any purpose of hostility toward those no longer acting with their fraternity, thawed the audience, which filled Association Hall in the evening, and the remainder of the meeting indicated that he had established himself firmly in the sympathies of his hearers.

DEATH OF A NOTED PAINTER.

Ernest Ange Duez, Well-Known by His Works, Dies in Paris.

The French painter Duez is dead in Paris Ernest Ange Daez was born in Paris in 1843 and studied in the atelier of Pils. He made his appearance in the salon in 1860 with a Mater Doloroso. Since that time scarcely a Mater Doloroso. Since that time scarcely a year has passed without some important work from his brush. In 1890 he sent to the Dissident salon, Au Champs de Mars, a portrait, and has since contributed to that society. M. Duez obtained a medal of the third class in 1874 and one of the first class in 1879. He received the decoration of the Legion of Honor in 1880, and was made an officer in 1889.

CARLISLE'S POSITION

His Reply to the Appeal of Chairman Long of Kentucky.

WILL NOT SEEK THE NOMINATION

Feeling Among the Republicans of New Jersey.

CURRENT POLITICAL NEWS

Secretary Carlisle has written the following letter on the subject of his candidacy for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention: "WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4, 1896.

'Charles R. Long, Esq., Chairman Demo cratic State Central Committee, Louisville, Ky. "My Dear Sir: Your favor of March 30, in which you say, in substance, that many of my friends in Kentucky and elsewhere desire me to become a candidate before the approaching national democratic convention for nomination for the office of President, and requesting me to give 'some authorita-tive or definite expression' upon the subject, was duly received and has been maturely considered.

"Many communications upon the same subject and of similar import have been re-ceived from friends in different parts of the country, and while very grateful for these numerous expressions of confidence and esteem upon the part of my democratic fellow citizens, I have not been able to reach the conclusion that the existing conditions the conclusion that the existing conditions lequire me to comply with their requests by authorizing them to announce me as a candidate for the presidential nomination.

"While I feel a profound interest in the welfare of my party, I am much more concerned about its declaration of principles than in its selection of candidates, because, in my opinion its faiture or measurement. in my opinion, its failure or success at the election, as well as its capacity for useful service in the country in the future, depends upon the position it takes or omits to take upon the public questions now engaging the attention of the people, and especially the questions affecting the monetary system of the country and the character and amount of taxation to be imposed upon our citizens. "Its position upon these and other subjects having been agreed upon and clearly and distincily announced, the convention ought to have no difficulty in selecting an acceptable candidate who will fairly represent its views, and in order that its deliberations may be embarrassed as little as possible by the contentions of rival aspirants and their frierds, I think my duty to the party will be best performed by declining to partici-pate in a contest for the nomination. "The obligations assumed when I accepted my present official position require me to devote my entire time and attention to the public interests committed to my charge, ballot for delegates to the general conference, which will meet in Kansas City in and I shall continue to discharge the duties imposed upon me to the best of my ability and in such manner as will, in my judgment behalf of honest administration and a sound financial policy. "With many thanks for your kind letter, I am, very truly yours, J. G. CARLISLE."

most certainly promote the true interests of the country, and if, in the opinion of my fellow democrats in Kentucky, my services en-title me to their commendation and ap-proval, I would regard their indersement of my public course as an ample reward for the little I have been able to accomplish in

THE APPEAL TO MR. CARLISLE. Chairman Long's Letter Asking the The letter of Charles R. Long, chairman of the democratic central committee of Kentucky, to Secretary Carlisle, which prompted the reply, was dated March 30, and was as follows: "Your many friends and fellow-democrats, especially in this state, and also throughout the country generally, recognizing your eminent fitness for the distinguished honor of heading our national democratic ticket for President of the United States, and looking to you as the generally accepted and available man of the demo-cratic party for this high and responsible office, feel and believe that the time is at hand for you to give some authorization or definite expression in deference to their wishes, and at some early date to define your position in the premises, at such time and place or in such manner as you may

McKINLEY IN KENTUCKY.

Contest With the Supporters of Gov. Bradley in Prospect. Fourteen republican county conventions were held in Kentucky Saturday. Eight of them instructed their delegates for Gov. Bradley and six for McKinley. Eighteen county conventions have instructed for Me-Kinley against their state favorite. Of the forty-six counties out of the 119 in the state that have held conventions the tally shows 448 delegates for Bradley and 212 for Mc

Kinley. There will be a contest between th friends of Gov. Bradley and Congressman Hunter at the republican state convention in Louisville, April 15. Dr. Hunter is a candidate for renomination for Congress and for delegate-at-large to the St. Louis convention. He is a pronounced McKinley man.

While the friends of Gov. Bradley are said to be opposing Dr. Hunter for Congress as well as for delegate to St. Louis, the friends of Dr. Hunter are said to be working for the adoption of McKinley resolutions in the county and district convenlutions in the county and district conven-tions, and that the final test of strength will come at the state convent McKINLEY OR HARRISON. Feeling Among the Republicans of New Jersey.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. CAPE MAY, N. J., April 4, 1896. The republican state convention will assemble at Trenton April 16, and most of the district conventions will be held there on the same day, as is the custom in this state. The delegates-at-large agreed upon are United States Senator William J. Sewell, National Committeeman Garrett A. Hobart, ex-Congressman John Kean and Chairman of the State Committee Franklin Murphy, a promirent Newark manufacturer. The district delegates are split on Reed and McKinley, with the latter in the lead. The pronounced McKinleyites are Hires, Handy, Roebling, Kean, Murphy, Quackenbush, Barber, Bergen and Riley, while the others are expected to come in for McKinley on a second ballot. to come in for McKinley on a second ballot. There is a probability of the whole delegation going for Harrison, should his name be presented: Gen. Sewell, who will be chairman, is a pronounced Harrison man. New Jersey has not instructed her delegates for several years, but an effort will be made to instruct for McKinley.

The delegates will make every effort to have the name of Garrett A. Hobart selected for Vice President in the event of any one being named for President from the west of the Alleghenies. Hobart does not

BELIEVES IN COIN.

Perry Belmont Would Like to See the Greenbacks Called In.

Perry Belmont has written a letter re garding needed reform of the national coinage and currency laws, in which he says "If that were possible, I wish, as I think you do, that by the joint action of all commercial countries everybody might have the right of carrying to the mint silver and gold, getting it back coined into full legal tender money. That is bimetallism, the es-sence of which is international unity, and a fixed rate arranged with us by European concert."

He continues: "The treasary can manage perpetual redemption in gold of our present 336,000,000 of silver certificates, but the addition of nearly half a million more of greenback debt to be paid and then reissued to be again paid, makes a Breekinridge to Run. Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge has been practicing law at Lexington, Ky., ever since the suit for damages of Madeline Pollard, two years ago, caused him to be succeeded in Congress by Col. W. C. Owens. Although Miss Pollard got a judgment for $50,000 she has Pollard got a judgment for $50,000 she has never been able to get execution or to recover anything.

Now that Col. Breckinridge is carwassing the district again to run for Congress this year, the old movement of the ladies in the district is being reorganized, and Col. Breckinridge will have the women against him as he had two years ago. Then the race for the nomination between Breckinridge and Cowens was close.

Texas Silver Men.

Ever since the democratic executive committee met at Austin, Texas, the chairmen of the silver wing and of the "sound money" wing have been issuing pronunclamentos, which have tended to materially widen the breach.

The executive committee decided that the monetary issue must be voted on at the primaries in June, and made an iron-clad form of ballot. Several county executive committees have recognized this and several have not. Rufus Hardy, chairman of the "sound money" executive committee, today called a conference for Dallas, on April 21, of "all democrats who will abide by the bational democratic platform, and vote for its nominees." widen the breach. vote for its nomine

Important Elections in Kentucky.

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 6.-The republicans today elect delegates to the district and state conventions and members of city and county committees for Jefferson county. Elections will also be heid in Fayette, Whit-ley, Madison and Pulaski counties. These will decide the state for Bradley or Mo-

Washington County for Wellington. Complete returns from the republican primaries in Washington county, Md., give an overwhelming majority of the delegates in favor of George L. Wellington for delegate-at-large to the convention at St. Louis. In nearly all districts resolutions favorable to McKinley for President were passed. Many of the delegations have members opposed to Wellington, but in no case is there a majority against him, and it is thought that the unit rule will be adopted. Several districts instructed their delegates for R. S. Crawford, president of the Crawford bicycle works.

McKinley Men Chosen.

The republicans of Davidson county, Tenn., which includes Nashville, held a convention and selected McKinley delsgates to the state convention Saturday.

ANGLO-SPAIN TREATY. The Report Given to a London Cor-

Expondent. Julian Ralph, London correspondent of the New York World, telegraphs: "The positive statement came to me tonight from a leading financier of the city that England has concluded a treaty of alliance with Spain. My informant's final message to me is: 'Within ten days Europe will be startled by the official announcement of this fact."

The correspondent is informed that the Salisbury ministry is disposed to do anything with safety and in reason to check the pretensions of our government to inter-fere in either West Indian or South American affairs and particularly in the West Indies, where Great Britain herself has the most important interests; and second, that Spain by this treaty has made important concessions to England in return for the latter's more or less active support of Spain's conflict with the Cuban rebels.

He continues: "I am able to give no further details of this alleged treaty than and refit its fleets in the Mediterraneau ports of Spain."

Terrific Fight With a Snake. A fire which created a panic broke out yesterday afternoon in a Clark street dime museum, Chicago. On the third floor, in a collection of snakes, was a boa constrictor, twenty feet in length. A female snake charmer had charge of the reptiles, and when the fire broke out she attempted to place them in a box. Calling for assistance, a stranger climbed into the cage and tried to capture the boa. A terrific struggle then ensued, but by the combined efforts of the snake charmer and the obliging stranger the boa constrictor was finally immed into the boa constrictor was finally jammed into a big box and secured. The remainder of the snakes were easily rescued.

Killed in a Prize Fight.

Arthur Bradley and Richard Ingram, two factory hands employed in Haverhill, Mass., engaged in a prize fight Saturday night to settle as to which was the better man. They found out that Bradley was, as Ingram died at midnight. The knockout blow was landed on a vein under the right jaw after thirty minutes' fighting. The police arrested Arthur Bradley and six others, and are looking for the other spectators.

South African Settlers Alarmed. There is great alarm felt at Mafeking, South Africa, at the Matabele uprising, and cettlers are flocking into the town, although it is 340 miles from Matabeleland. New Hotel at Old Point.

Chamberlin's Hotel, at Old Point Comfort, was opened Saturday. The guests included cabinet officers, Senators, Representatives and other distinguished persons. A ball was
